Kitchen Design Trends 2019

House Method talked to five design experts about what we can expect to see in kitchens in 2019. Let's hit the highlights.

Quality stone materials are here to stay

I think that white marble slabs such as Dolomiti or Danby for counters and backsplashes will stay. It's a crisp, clean look that never goes out of style in any kitchen, modern or traditional. Clients ask me about stains from coffee or wine. I tell them that those things can add character from use like patina. Kitchens should be clean not pristine.
